

I am looking forward to helping facilitate equitable access to opportunity in my community. I hope to lead through creating compassionate relationships with my community members and witnessing the power and resiliency rooted in their stories.

Daniela Gallardo

University of Ottawa

Learning and Technology Mentoring for Moncton's Newcomers, Newcomer Community of Moncton, New Brunswick, Canada

The creation and development of a technology and digital literacy program is the core of my initiative. I am pleased to be partnering with MAGMA, the local settlement agency of the Greater Moncton Area. Through mentorship, workshops and relationship building, I hope to bring learners together in a space where technology is accessible, and allow for individuals to see themselves in the digital space.

My own parents immigrated to Canada as refugees over thirty years ago. The Maritimes have embraced my family as much as I have embraced the lands and people that reside within my local community. Having previously volunteered for MAGMA's language programs and through personal experiences, I have been exposed to the long-lasting barriers facing newcomer integration. It is a privilege to be able to use my own knowledge and access towards continuing to empower this community as it has done for me.

COADY

INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTE
ST. FRANCIS XAVIER UNIVERSITY

PATHY FOUNDATION FELLOWSHIP