

I am looking forward to being creative and sharing stories about Indigenous cultures. When Indigenous storytelling is combined with a science activity it is my hope that Indigenous youth will be inspired to pursue their curiosities.

Indigenous Science Activities on Film, Montreal, Quebec, Canada

This project will focus on working with Indigenous community members within the Montreal area to tell stories on film. I will be collaborating with the Indigenous Health Professions Program (IHPP) at McGill to create Indigenous storytelling science activities.

I have been a long-term resident at the First Peoples' House of McGill. Through this community I have been fortunate to work with youth at the Kahnawake Survival School science fair. I am also heavily involved in many Indigenous initiatives within the Montreal area.
